

When I first heard about the academy, I wasn't sure if I was a good enough player and I really didn't think I was able to commit to the practice schedule. At the time, I wasn't serious about my future in golf since there was not a future past high school golf for me at the time. However, I decided to give the academy a try just to be able to compete at the high school level. I had one lesson with Kyle and immediately knew that I belonged at The Golf Room.

I started the academy and even though my skill level wasn't very high shooting in the 90's, I never felt like anyone, coaches or other students, looked down on me or judged me. Everyone was there for the same reason: to get better. The environment the Kyle created felt so natural and welcoming for everyone to improve their game. I looked forward to coming to the academy and each day, I felt I got at least one percent better whether it be a part of my swing, my strength, or the mental aspect.

The second year of the academy was even better than the first and I know that The Golf Room will continue to grow as a family in the years to come. The organization and level of care that Kyle, Lindsay, Dr. Kays, and Rich all have are second to none. They dedicate so much of their time simply to make you a better person on and off the golf course.

The Golf Room has shown me so much support whether it be in practice, after a tournament, or even if I am just having a bad day. They know when something is bothering you and are there to help you get through it so you can get back to being the best you can be. I will always cherish the advice and guidance I have received from The Golf Room because it has helped shape me into who I am today. It is always a place to be yourself and be able to thrive.

All the coaches at The Golf Room treat everyone, no matter who they are or where they came from, with the utmost respect. It truly is a family and a home away from home.

Two years later, I have now since started playing Division 1 golf at my dream school, Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton Florida. I owe it all to the guidance, determination, and care I was able to get from Kyle, Lindsay, Dr. Kays, and Rich. I spent countless hours with them, all of those at the academy, and never once was there a dull moment; it was a place for those to get better and to make lasting connections and relationships.

Golf is not just your swing, it is also your physical and mental strength and takes a lot of planning no matter what your future in it may be - just to get better in general or to play in college or professionally. The Golf Room encompasses all of the aspects of golf and makes it an inspiring, inviting, and amazing place to get better.

I give them the highest recommendation and I hope you make the decision to dive in like I did, because it might just change your life, like it did mine.

Best Regards,
